General Comment

Please stop meddling with my financials. I can plan my own retirement. It's none of your business to get involved. The government already controls what I eat, how much I make, my health care, and now want to restrict how I can spend my own money during retirement.

Tell you what, once every government employee, every member of congress, and every member of the senate have to live by the same rules as me, then we'll talk. Until then, please leave me and my finances alone.

Thanks,
Jeff T.
